Ashwin Vasani Joins as Partner at FS Vector

WASHINGTON, DC (September 5, 2024) — Leading regulatory advisory firm FS Vector (FSV) today announced that Ashwin Vasani has joined as a full-time Partner, following his initial role of Senior Advisor.

Mr. Vasani was most recently Associate Director of Research, Monitoring and Regulations at the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB). He oversaw a team that led the CFPB's policy development work (research, reports, and regulations) and served as an advisor to Director Rohit Chopra. In addition to his time at the CFPB, he was formerly at Capital One and McKinsey & Company.

"Ashwin's extensive knowledge and experience with regulatory issues impacting innovative financial services companies has been an invaluable asset to our clients," stated FSV CEO John Beccia. "Ashwin's contributions have been indispensable to both our clients and the firm. We are excited to see Ashwin take on a larger role at FS Vector and look forward to his continued insights in navigating the constantly evolving regulatory and legal environment."

"I have been thoroughly impressed by the team that John and Raj have assembled at FS Vector, and I'm eager to contribute to the firm's future vision," said Vasani.

"It was a privilege to work with Ashwin during our time together at the CFPB; it was a privilege to bring him on board here" said Raj Date, co-founder of FS Vector and Managing Partner of Fenway Summer. "In just a few months with us, Ashwin not only contributed his deep understanding of regulatory complexities but also showcased his ability to offer clients strategic insights that go beyond the surface. His rare blend of expertise, leadership, and forward-thinking has made a significant impact on both our clients and our team. We are excited to have him step into this larger leadership role and are confident that his contributions will continue to drive the firm's success."
